Hum

Inside my heart, a little while

Come closer with the honey of your song

Your dance is a code is a pathway to what's given

I am learning how to listen

Hum

Inside my heart, a little while

From you comes the honey of my song

Tender to the tendrils blooming color taste and longing for

You who kiss the petals of my reach

Our minds send us farther than our legs can carry us

But your flight weaves the membrane of our step

So, we give our voices

So, we give our voices to the ones who've left us

So, we give our voices

To the ones who cry in silence

So, we give our voices

So, we give our voices to the ones whose speech is

Runnin' under soil beneath

So, we give our voices

So, we give our voices to the ones who've left us

So, we give our voices

To the ones who cry in silence

So, we give our voices

So, we give our voices to the ones whose speech is

Runnin' under soil beneath

Subtle as your flutter beat lung beat run beat

Hum

Hum

Hum, inside my heart, a little while
